The Crooked Tree Childish impressions are as strong as, frequently, mistaken. A thoughtchild, hearing someone wonder why a certain tree in the garden was so crooked, replied, remembering the proverb about "As the twig is bent, the tree is inclined": "I suppose somebody must have stepped on it when it was little."

Problem of Universal Peace.

War sweeps away not only some of the bravest and best of a nation, it also disposes of the offscouring of the countries at war. When, then, war ceases, a pressing problem will be how to prevent the accumulation of the dangerous classes no longer left on the battlefield .- Christian Register.

Heips to reed Japanese. Most abundant of all seaweeds ar the kelps, distributed along ever coast in the world. From these th Japanese prepare many food products known under the generic uam kombu.

Provided for Burial Vault. By the will of a French lady who died recently a farm was left to the town on condition her family vaul was kept in repair; while the rest o her estate was to be divided among those attending her funeral.

Japanese Shun Factory Life. Of the Japanese factory laborer the average "work life" is short, very few being able to last longer than five years. Hence the rural population hesitates to migrate to the city when country employment is abundant.

One Risk Sufficient. Marks-If you had to live your life over again would you marry the same woman? Parks-You just bet I would I know what she is, and women are oo uncertain for me to experiment with another one.

A Girl's Versatility. A girl's versatility is such that she will telephone the society editor some item about herself and then be surprised almost to death when she sees it in the paper next morning .- Ohio State Journal.

Telephone Snipe, A "telephone snipe" is a man who habitually uses some other man's telephone at no other expense to himself than a "thank you." He flourishes, perhaps, because he is not a game bird.

Dickens' Real Home. For 14 years Dickens made Broadstairs his principal summer home in England, London alone held a superior place in his affections. He felt his powers at their amplest when he was at the little channel coast town.

"NEGLECTED ONCE, I COME NO

MOREL" There was a man who dreamed one day O. great things that he meant to de; but felly in the sunshine lay the while he dreamed, and never knew What proud bright shaps was drawing ligh.

Or listened to its thrilling cry—"Aris: arise, and follow me.
And make your dream reality"
Until it ressed away again,
And, passing, amote the dreamer's brain
With studien sense of loss and pain There was a man who dreamed one

With sudden some of loss and pain.

"Who called me?" anxiously he seled;
"Oh, speak; Oh, come once more to me"
Put far away a voice replied,
"My name is Opportunity!
Who welcomes me with swift embrace
Small mest n.e always face to face;
Fut the stern truth is known of yore,
Neglected cnce, I come no more;
And still the dreamer in the sun
to asmiss great.". To be done,
Yet sees, alos! the fruit of cone.
—Mary Eradley in The Freshyterian.

where a smile dwells a little

Where the bonds of home are a wew bit fighter. That's where the West begins. out where the skies are a trifle bluer, but where friendship's a little truer. That's where the West begins: but where a fresher breeze is blowing. Where there's laughter in every streamlet flowing.

Out where the world is in the making.
Where fewer hearts with despair are aching—
That's where the West begins.
Where there's more of singing and less of sighing.
